Shreveport Detective Goes Above and Beyond to Apprehend Assault Suspect

Marcus Williams

On April 27, 2025, a Shreveport Police detective working overtime patrol duties responded to a domestic disturbance call that resulted in a key arrest.

Shortly after 9:00 a.m., the detective was dispatched to the 1900 block of Patzman Street in reference to an assault and battery incident. Upon arrival, the victim reported that Marcus Williams had come to her residence in an aggressive manner and struck her in the face. At the time of the incident, four children were present, ranging in age from 1 to 12 years old. The victim sustained visible injuries, including swelling, facial redness, and broken eyeglasses.

The following day, while working a separate assignment, the same officer observed a vehicle she believed was being driven by Williams. Acting swiftly, she conducted a traffic stop, confirmed his identity, and took him into custody. In addition to the domestic abuse charges, it was discovered that Williams had 15 outstanding warrants related to traffic violations.

Marcus Williams now faces four counts of domestic abuse battery with child endangerment along with the multiple outstanding warrants.

This case highlights the dedication and vigilance of our officers—particularly this detective—who went above and beyond the call of duty to help ensure the safety of our community.
